

Solent Sunset

scattering ashes at sea

A memorable 'Goodbye' for a loved one

When someone close has passed away, it is sometimes difficult to know what to do with the ashes.

For those that have lived near, or been associated with, the sea, perhaps the ocean could be the perfect final resting place.

Local yacht charter company, Solent Days, would be proud to be asked to provide our boat for such an occasion, for immediate family and friends of up to five people.

We will set sail from Chichester Marina, to a suitable position at sea, outside the harbour, or within the tranquil setting of Chichester harbour itself. Here we will gently drift or sail to the sound of the wind and ocean while you scatter the ashes into the sea, together with any floral tributes.

When you are ready, we will stop at anchor for refreshments, or if you prefer, set sail back to Chichester Marina, where you can have some refreshments on board or even a small reception for your guests.

The skipper will issue you with a date/time and position card, of where the ashes were laid to rest.

It is a truly memorable way to say your last farewell.

Introducing the Skipper

Roger Barrow has been sailing for 40 years. A fully qualified yachtmaster, he is passionate about sailing, and keen to pass on his enthusiasm to others. He recently started his own small family skippered charter business, Solent Days. He lives in Selsey near Chichester with his wife Pat.

A few years ago, when his mother Kay passed away, he took his family out in the boat and scattered her ashes in her favourite waters, Chichester Harbour. He found it a moving and memorable experience, which led him to offer a similar service to others. He understands how you will be feeling and will do everything to help make it a memorable day for you and your guests.

Our Boat 'Kayleen'

A classic, safe, luxurious all-weather ocean going boat, the Cromarty 36. She is an exceptionally strong, superbly finished three-cabin, six berth cruising masterpiece.

Large wide decks, and comfortable seating at the stern, she is fully equipped, MCA certified. There is a full inventory of safety equipment, including lifejackets for skipper and 5 crew.

She is easy to sail, with a ketch rig, and perfect for the unpredictable English weather with a twin pilot positions, on deck and in the pilot house, where everyone can stay dry in bad weather.
